Rockefeller Center, Chrysler Building, Empire State building... as early as the 1920s and 1950s, "Metropolitan Culture" architecture in New York, with its own style of modern standing in the city center, writing the city's inner temperament, thus also outlined the magnificent, noble and elegant picture of the superior life and spiritual pursuit. With the changes of the Times, "Metropolitan Culture" is more enduring.

From New York, London to Sydney and the world, every stage of the world's metropolis is filled with its shadow, leading the new fashion of modern cities. The birth of JONHOS "Tiaoban" series originates from "metropolis" and innovates in "metropolis". It is not only the product of the classic metropolis culture but also the spiritual representative of the modern city development. By interpreting the taste of the modern urban elite, the designers cast the "model of elite life" by "Metropolitan Culture", and deduce the quality of home life by means of individuality and generous design techniques, reinterpret the modern glamour of modern metropolis.
